Beginning the Work .- We notice that our after Maj. Geo came there. enterprising townsman, Mr. Lynn Adams, is laying the foundation for a new brick structure, on rise, "like finulx from her hashes," as a John Bull cockney would quote, and become the beauty and pride of that part of the City.

Too Fond of Pork .- Harrison Sweat, freedretinue of attendants, who seemed to be partieularly careful of his health, and who was placed as a boarder with Sheriff Ray until the doctors of the Court of Pleas and Quarter Sessions shall convene and make up a prescription to suit his case. Harrison's larder ran low in the meat line, to replenish which he committed a raid on Mr. W. J. Holleman's pig-sty, and took away one of its finest and fattest occupants. Mr. Holleman got on the track and found the dead porker in Harrison's possession, took him before Esq. J. Q. Williams, where he owned up, and was sent by that civil functionary to the county hotel, as above stated. Harrison, whose surname is Sweat, will likely find it a warm job, before it is over with.

Charter Election .- The citizens of Raleigh will vote on Monday on the reception or rejection of the amendments to the City charter, passed at polls will be opened at the Court House, and the election will be held by Mayor Harrison.

The proceedings of Friday's session of the Commission are unavoidably crowded out. They will appear in our next issue.

See to It .- Merchants from the surrounding country will recollect to bear in mind, and not forget to remember, the large Auction Sale, by Messrs, B. P. We refer to the advertisement as giving a better idea of what may be bought at the sale, in quantity and quality, than anything we can say in a short local notice.

Trial of Major John H. Gee.

THURSDAY, APRIL 19, 1866. Gen. James G. Martin was cross examined. On the order from Richmond for a guard for the prison at Salisbury, there was reported from 800 to 1000 men; Freeman's battalion and Hoke's regiment was there when he got there. Witness, in answer to questions, gave his views in regard to the number of men necessary to form the regular guard at the prison. The troops at Salisbury had no other duty but that connected with the prison; of the numbers sent there, many got sick and | idence of repentance, and that they would others went home, so there were never enough to | unite in upholding the flag, in defence of take out fatigue parties to cut wood-about 200 | which there had been so much sacrifice of men per day reported to Maj. Another Speech by the President.

Washington, April 18.—The President to-night addressed a dense assemblage of soldiers and sailors and others, who complimented him with a serenade.

He said that he cared not for his slanderers, whom he characterized as the foul whelps of sin. The rebellion had been put down, and did we, he asked, shed so much blood, the recent session of the General Assembly. The and make so many sacrifices for the purpose of destroying the States? No-it was to preserve the States under the Constitution and in the union of the States. He repeated: "We toiled not to break down the Union but to preserve it. In time of war, we have the right to strike and cripple, and reduce to subjection, but in time of peace, the converse course is the right one, and we must rebuild the cities-restore the villages-renew agriculture and encourage all the arts and industrial pursuits. The soldier from the private to the Commanding Generalknows better what should be done than the closet politician and the humanitarian."

"Let us," he said, "make every effort to restore the relations which heretofore existed between the Federal government and all the States. There is now no enemy against the government." Denying the right of a State to secode, he tended to maintain his policy. The President was frequently interrupted by applause, which showed that the soldiers now, as heretofore, took his stand both against secession and consolidation, and in-

Congressional Proceedings.

WASHINGTON, April 18 .- The Scuate today resumed the consideration of the bill for the relief of certain naval contractors. The bill to protect military officers from Go it, Tom, you seem to have plenty of raw the consequences of any acts performed in their official capacity, was also discussed. The House resumed the consideration of the bill to increase the regular army.

Bonds Restored to the New Orleans Banks. Washington, April 18 .- The Attorney General having recommended that the bonds captured by General Sheridan, at Shreveport, which had been deposited by the New Orleans Banks with the State Auditor of Louisiana, be returned to the present State Auditor, the Secretary of the Treasury has telegraphed Governor Wells that he will cause the bonds which may be identified as belonging to the Banks to be delivered to Beware of Tooth Poisons vended under | the State Auditor, or to any duly authorized agent, at Washington, or will send the same by express to the auditor, upon receiving advices from the Governor, at the risk of the State. There are said to be about two millions of these bonds.

From Washington .-- Internal Revenue.

Washington, April 17.-It is expected that the committee of ways and means will this week report an amendatory internal revenue bill, by which the taxes on many articles will be considerably reduced with a view to encourage manufactures, while other articles will be entirely relieved. The receipts from this source of revenue have largely exceeded the estimates.

Speeches.

A mass meeting of soldiers and sailors took place to-night, the Assembly Rooms being densely crowded. The objects were to promote such measures as will insure the equalization of bounties, just pension laws, and appointments to positions under the government, and all other matters affecting the rights and interests of the soldiers and sailors of the country. Gens. Garfield and Smith, of the House of Representatives, having made speeches in furtherance of their object, General Schenck, also of the House, responded at length to the resolutions which had been adopted, and said from the first till now he would not compromise with traitors. The rebels were down and he would keep them so until they gave some evmiserable scoundrels those who had attempthe rebellion, he would not forget those who was a second sour apple tree, he did not see why Robert E. Lee should not meet the same fate. These remarks were greeted with deafening applause. Colonel McKee, of Kentucky, a member of the House, said there should be no compromise. The test oath should never be repealed, and the governthe present Congress would equalize the

The following are some of the resolutions adopted by this meeting: Resolved. That we fully concur in the oftenrepeated declatation of the President of the United States that "treason is a crime, and ought to be punished;" and we have been waiting most patiently for a practical application of the principle to the leaders of the

Resolved, That we hereby express our unstore rebels to power; and earnestly protest against the admission to a seat in Congress lately in rebellion who is unable to take what is known as the "test oath," and it would be an insult to every Union soldier in the Republic to allow men whose hands are yet red with the blood of their comrades to legislate for them, and for the wives and children of the gallant dead who fell on the battle-field or were atrociously starved or murdered in Southern prisons. Resolved, That, in the opinion of this meeting, no State lately in rebellion should be allowed to come back into practical working relations with loyal States until they have given unmistakable evidence of a desire to cherish the Union and protect the great principles of civil liberty, which they so lately attempted to destroy.

Resolved, That it is the desire of this meeting that, if any of the benefits asked for should be conferred by Congress, no distinction shall be made between soldiers or sailors on account of color.

The Norfolk Riot.

An inquest has been held over the bodies of Robert and Charlotte Whitehurst, recently killed in Norfolk. A part of the evidence Marshal Capps-I was passing through

s as follows: Nicholson street with three colored women in my carriage; they requested me to stop to see the procession; I stopped the carriage, and was leaning against the pole; a colored man was lying in the road, between the road and ditch; I took him to be drunk; two colored men came along and told him to get up, that the procession was coming along; he refused to get up, and told them to go away from there, damn black sons of ----, or he would shoot them; or if they did not get away he would kill them. I turned towards the stand to see who was speaking to the colored population; a pistol went off; I looked again and saw a black man jump up and cry, "Oh Lord: oh Lordy!" he was the one who tried to get the drunken man up; my belief is that the negro who was drunk shot him, for he told him if he did not go away he would shoot him; when he fell, the negroes from the stand rushed towards Nicholson street crying, "Rally! rally, boys! and kill a white son of a --- wherever you find him!" they all rushed towards the side walk : I turned my carriage and got out of the way, and drove towards Church street : then the crowd of negroes had headed up a white man; who he was I do not know; I only know they were in pursuit of some one; I drove towards Mr. Collins and stopped and looked back, and saw two negroes dragging a man between them; they were headed off by a party at the corner of Nicholson street, who turned them toward the old field; I know both the men; the man that was killed was the man they had between the two horses; I heard firing at a house on Nicholson street, as I arrived on Church street with my carriage.

Susan Fuller, colored-I was at Mrs. Whitehurst's door yesterday, [Monday] on Nicholson street at the time of the fight; Joe Mackey said. "Rally in, boys! bring him out and shoot him!" John — fired and then I went off; I saw John shoot at him; I do not know whether John killed him [Robert Whitehurst | or not; I only saw one shot fired, and went off to get out of danger; there was a number around with guns and pistols; a colored man tried to protect the ouse, and Mackey seized him by the collar, and asked him if he "would take up for a dam white secesh son of a ---;" the man I saw John shoot was in his shirt sleeves: I saw no white person in the house except those who lived there. The Old Dominion, of yesterday, says :-The jury returned a verdict that Robert B. Whitehurst came to his death from pistol shots fired by a person or persons unknown to the jury. The same verdict was rendered in the case of Mrs. Charlotte Whitehurst, with the exception that the word shots were singular, and not plural. Several parties, implicated in the riot and murder are now in jail, and will be examined before the Mayor at an early day. The coroner's jury felt confident that both Mrs. Whitehurst and her son were killed by colored persons who had participated in the celebration of that day, and discussed the propriety of inserting that in the verdict. It is very evident, from the testimony adduced, that Whitehurst Brothers were shot by persons engaged in the procession, deliberate y and witfally, but there is no testimeny to show how Mrs. Whitehurst was shot, as it occurred inside the house. Martial law has been proclaimed in the Norfolk military district.

The Peace Proclamation .-- The Official Coustruction--- Explanation by the President. On the 7th inst., General Tillson, at Augusta, Georgia, transmitted by telegraph the following interrogatory, addressed to General O. O. Howard.

Does the President's recent proclamation remove martial law in this State? If so, General Brannan does not feel authorized to arrest parties who have committed outrages on freed people or Union refugees. Please which is necessary to improve and keep floating, answer by telegraph. The following reply was sent from the Adjutant General's office: The President's proclamation does not remove martial law or operate in any way upon the Freedmen's Bureau in the exercise of its legitimate jurisdiction. It is not expedient, however, to resort to a military tribunal in any case where justice can be attained through the medium of civil authority.

E. D. TOWNSEND, A. A. G. The Washington correspondent of the Chicago Tribune, (Radical) gives the following report of an interview of General How-ard with the Fresident, on the 4th instant: "The General opened the conversation by explaining that he had sought the interview for the purpose of learning, without delay, the effect which the proclamation was de signed to produce upon the methods and machinery of the Bureau. More specifically, he wished to know if martial law was abolished, and with it the system of military courts established for the protection of the otherwise unprotected freed people.

"The President replied, without hesitation, that the proclamation was a declaration of policy, and nothing more; that it did not bolish military courts, did not remove martial law, and was not designed to modify the operations of the Bureau in any respect whatever. On the contrary, it was the President's expectation and express desire, that the administration of the Bureau should be continued as heretofore, and that all judicial functions should be exercised, as the interests of impartial justice may require. The President further observed that this proclamation would be Executively interpreted and applied precisely as was the proclamation announcing the restoration of Tennessee. As the States or part of States give unquestionable evidence of entire readiness to do impartial justice, they will be individually and locally relieved from military government; not otherwise, nor sooner." New York Markets. NEW YORK, April 18 .- Cotton heavy .-Sales sixteen hundred bales at 37 cents .-Flour active and excited. State $7 15@9. Southern advanced 20@30 cents. Wheat active, and 8@12 cents higher. Corn ad-

"The Sunday School Banner." A NEW ENTERPRISE!

THE UNDERSIGNED, THEMSELVES MEM-

In our own State, there are very many taking. In our own State, there are very many Sabbath Schools, and from the best information we have, the scholarship is large and increasing, and it is from them we look for that patronage this native standard which we propose for their benefit. It is not for pecuniary gain that the "BANNER," is established; it has for its aim higher objects, and if we succeed in our enterprise, it will be to us in after life a source of great satisfaction to know that, in our boyhood days, we gave a helping hand to Sunday Schools, the preparatory Schools for places of high trust and position, in the work of our Heavenly Father. Its name sufficiently indicates the object which is to control its editorial conduct. There is necessity however for the remark that it will not be nominational, but alike open to all the Sabbath Schools of this State for contributions, in which there is no spice of sectarianism.

The "BANNER" will be issued monthly on hand some type, clear white paper and will contain fourteen columns reading matter, quarto length. We trust sufficient encouragement may be of fered to justify the undertaking.

IS A CONCENTRATED extract of the choice root, so combined with other substances of still greater alterative power as to afford feetual autisticases 9 puted to cure. Such a remedy is surely wanted by those who suffer from Strumous complaints, and that one which will accomplish their cure must prove, as this has, of immense service to this large class of our afflicted fellow-citizens. How completely this compound will do it has been proven by experiment on many of the worst cases o be found in the following complaints:— Scrofula, Scrofulous Swellings and Sores, Skin Diseases, Pimples, Pustutes, Blotches, Eruptions. St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter or Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworms, &c. Syphilis or Venerial Disease is expelled from the system by the prolonged use of this SARSAPARILLA and the patient is left in comparative health. Female Diseases are caused by Scrofula in the blood, and are often soon cured by this EXTRACT OF SARSAPARILLA.

Do not discard this invaluable medicine, be cause you have been imposed upon by something pretending to be Sarsaparilla, while it was not.—
When you have used Aven's—then, and not till then, will you know the virtues of Sarsaparilla.— For minute particulars of the diseases it cures, we refer you to Ayer's American Almanac, which the agent below named will furnish gratis to all who call for it.
